CWC & WWILPL's ICD-Loni wins prestigious award

Exim News Service

NEW DELHI, Jan. 31

WORLDS Window Infrastructure and Logistics Pvt. Ltd (WWILPL), a strategic alliance partner of Central Warehousing Corporation (CWC), added another feather to its cap by winning the 'Inland Container Depot of the Year' award for ICD-Loni at a prestigious awards function here recently.
The awards had the endorsement of the Union Ministry of Shipping (MoS).

The nominations were for 13 categories and the esteemed jury, comprising eminent industry leaders, selected WWILPL as ICD of the Year. WWILPL, ICD-Loni was referred to as the first of the success stories in public private partnership with the Central Warehousing Corporation. It provides single-window solutions for all logistics needs and has made its mark as one of the most efficient and world class service providers offering rail and road connectivity, warehousing and other services under one roof in the hinterland. The facility is growing at an exemplary pace.

Mr Sher Jagjit Singh, Regional

Manager, CWC and Mr Rajiv Kochhar, Vice-President (Commercial and Operations), WWILPL, received the award from Mr K. Mohandas, Secretary, Ministry of Shipping, on behalf of ICD-Loni. Mr Kochhar attributed the recognition to the continued support and patronage of the ICD's customers, Customs, shipping lines, CWC and all its well wishers.

In 2011 WWILPL had been acknowledged as 'News Maker of the Year', for successfully running ICD-Loni on the PPP model, at Exim India and Assocham's Conquest 2011 held here. This is the second consecutive year that the ICD has won an award in the four years since it commenced operations, which, emphasised a release, reflects the company's commitment, efficiency and high level of reliability in customer service and sets an example to others.
